RE: Opening Health Insurance Exchanges

Dear Secretary Azar and Administrator Verma:

The undersigned State Attorneys General of North Carolina, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Hawai‘i, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, and Washington urge the federal government to reconsider its shortsighted decision to deny a special enrollment period on HealthCare.Gov during the current international health crisis. The COVID-19 pandemic is killing people, causing economic upheaval, and stretching our nation’s medical resources. Americans continue to experience the economic effects of the virus. Millions of individuals have lost their jobs—and with their jobs, their ability to pay for healthcare. We should not allow the virus to prevent sick people from obtaining treatment because they lack healthcare coverage or to face financial ruin if they seek care. People who lack health insurance are suffering the brunt of the pandemic. They work in grocery stores and food service, they drive trucks and sanitize buildings, and their jobs often do not provide sick leave.\(^1\) Because they are uninsured, they are less likely to have a regular place to obtain healthcare and are more likely to delay obtaining care due to fears of the cost.\(^2\) The administration has long touted choice and “informed healthcare decisions” to purportedly inform its healthcare policies, but is now denying many Americans the option of obtaining comprehensive healthcare coverage to combat this unprecedented healthcare care crisis.

While tests for the disease are free, treatment may not be. And medical bills for uninsured individuals can be in the tens of thousands of dollars. Therefore, the COVID-19 pandemic threatens to amplify our national problem of high medical bills, a problem the Affordable Care Act sought to address. But legal and policy solutions are easily at hand by extending the availability of healthcare coverage options through the federal exchange. Indeed, America’s Health Insurance Plans (AHIP) has endorsed a special enrollment period as a measure to address the current healthcare crisis because it would give Americans the “opportunity to get the security and peace of mind that health care coverage provides.”

A national solution to the problem demands decisive and reasoned federal action. Some states run their own health insurance exchanges and may independently extend enrollment. For example, on March 20, 2020, Covered California announced that enrollment would be extended through the end of June to ensure that all Californians have an opportunity to obtain healthcare coverage. But 38 states, including North Carolina, rely on HealthCare.Gov to run their exchanges. The federal government should take similar action to make it possible for people in those states to obtain the healthcare they need during this critical time.

Under “exceptional circumstances”—a health crisis unlike any seen in the past hundred years and an economic downturn on pace to exceed the Great Recession—HealthCare.Gov is empowered to provide for a special enrollment period. 45 C.F.R. § 155.420(d)(9). We urge the federal government to thoughtfully acknowledge the current dire circumstances by creating a special enrollment period. We must not allow a lack of insurance to prevent sick people from getting treatment or to bankrupt those who do receive care during these unprecedented times.
