Attorney General Frosh's Statement on ACA Court Decision

BALTIMORE, MD (February 1, 2019) – Attorney General Frosh today released the following statement:

“The effect of the Court’s ruling today is simply that we must wait to pursue our case. The Court held that because the Texas Court’s decision holding the Affordable Care Act unconstitutional will not go into effect while on appeal, and the Trump Administration has promised to continue enforcing the ACA pending that appeal, moving forward now would be premature.”

“We will resume this litigation immediately if the President breaks his promise of continued enforcement or when the stay of the Texas Court’s decision is lifted. In the meantime, we will work with the General Assembly to continue efforts to safeguard the millions of Marylanders who rely on the ACA for coverage of preexisting conditions and access to the affordable, quality health care coverage so critical to their health, financial security, and well-being.”
